THE AFFAIR OF THE ITATA.

A Serious Puzzle to the Government Officials.

SORRY SHE DID NOT STAY IN CHILL

Indian-Commissioner Morgan and His Hostility to Roman Catholic Influences-Heavy Rains Capital Notes.

Washington, D. C., July 8,-[Special.]-The Government officials are sorely puzzled over the Itata. Now that they have her, some, at least, of the high officials, wish she was safe stowed in some Chilian harbor. The court's decision in the case of the Robert and Minnie was a grievous disappointment to Secretary Tracy and Attorney-General Miller, both of whom insisted, contrary to the advice of Secretary Blaine, that the Itata should be pursued, captured and punished. Secretary Blaine explained the embarrasing phases of the case, and expressed the opinion that the litata could be convicted of only a single offense—that of violating the port laws in leaving without that he is interestianly and observate the tail-end of a rather diminutive (abinet, was footbardy enough to take issue with Sec-retary Blaine. It is no secret that Mr. Blaine in attempting to dissuade the Administration from taking a step which he was confident would lead to confusion, suggested that in the event the Chilan insurgents should succeed the United States might regret having so vigorously prosecuted the Itata. Later news from Chili prosecuted the Itata. Later news from Chilitends to confirm reports of recent insurgent victories. The Chilian Legation here, which, of course, represents the existing government of Balmacella, has been very enriest in urging the presecution of the Itata.

At the departments the same old policy of refusing information is pursued, but enough leaks out through some of the suberdinate officials to show that Secretary Tracy regrets having placed somuch confidence in Attorney-General Miller's advice.

some of the ablest lawyers of washington, men who, by study and practice, are well up in international law, predict that the Itata will escape with a fine for having violated the port laws. Virtually a plea of guilty was entered as to this and the matter ignored by payment into the Treasury of $1,000, $500 as the fine against each the captain and first Indian Commissioner Morgan is now bold and defant in his hostility to Catholic teachers and Catholic influence in the education of the nation's wards. Hitherto Morgan who is a religious bigot of the most ultra type, has conducted his warfare against the Catholics in surreptitions manner, denying, while cretly manipulating to oust (atho-teachers, that he was influenced he teachers, that he was influenced by any religious prejudices. Now he has thrown aside his mask of hypocrisy and thrown aside his mask of hypoerisy and openly beasts that he is rapidly 'cleaning out' the Catholies. He has establishe labout one hundred and fifty Indian schools of various grades and not a Catholic has been appointed teacher in any of them. More than that he loostingly declares that he has succeeded in getting rid of many Catholic teachers whom he found employed when he took the bureau one year longer there the head of the bureau one year longer there.

Senator Hempe, leader of the anti-Donnelly Alliance faction, objected to the new committee because it ignored the existing aliance campaign committee. He held that the Cincinnati convention proposed new committees only in unorganized. EVADING THE LAW.

Chief-Inspector Rathbone, of the postal service, was recently appointed Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General under a recent Act of Congress creating that office. Contrary to law Mr. Rathbone's subordinates, the postal inspectors, made up a purse and presented the former with a watch and chair which cost $550. The absurd claim is set up that as Mr. Rathbone had not formally taken charge of his new office he was a private citizen. In fact, Rathbone was just as much Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General when he accepted the present as he is toeral when he accepted the present as he is to-day or ever will be. He was commissioned to one office before leaving the other, and it now remains to be seen if Reformer Roosevelt, who is so keen to criticise Senator Gorman and other Democrats, will call attention to this infraction of civil service law and rules by prominent Republicans of this administra-

HEAVY RAINS.

If the newspaper paragraphers and punsters succeed in fastening upon Secretary Rusk responsibility for rains, Uncle Jerry's presidential boom will soon be drowned. Floods are doing great damage in many sections of the country. It has been pouring down here in almost a steady flow since last night. In the lower part of the city the sewers are not capable of conveying off the water as rapidly as it falls, and many cellars are flooded. The Potomac is high for this season of the year and rising, though no apprehension of a flood is yet felt.

BURIED BY COMRADES IN SIN.

Remains of the Electrocuted Murderers Borne Away by Convicts.

REPORT THAT THE BODIES WERE BURNED

Dr. McDonald Refuses to Disclose the Result of the Autopsy-The Execution Pronounced a Success.

Sing Sing, N. Y., July 8,-The unclaimed bodies of the three electrocuted murderers, Slocum, Wood and Jugigo, were buried in the prison cemetery at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Nine convicts lowered the coffins, one after another, into the graves, which were quickly filled. There was no ceremony, religious or otherwise, at the graves. Warden Brown was seen at the prison this evening and asked as to the reported burning of Smiler's body. He said that he still adhered to his determination to make no statement whatever, and that he would neither deny nor confirm the report.

The Rev. Father Creeden, who was present at the executions in his cierical capacity, is quoted as saying that when the whole story came out it would be disclosed that all the men were burned by the electrodes, but they had been so mutilated by the surgeon's knives that it would be difficult of proof.

DR. M'DONALD DECLINES TO TALK. Dr. C. F. McDonald, who conducted the auto sy on the four men executed at Sing Sing yesterday, arrived here last night. He declined to publish the details of the autopsies. When asked if he had read the report sent out by the United Press, he said "I have, and it is a good one. I have no criticism whatever to make upon it." How about the story that the men were burned by the second contact? was asked. "I refuse to be interviewed upon that question. Even witnesses may differ on such points. I believe the affair was a success and that we have the affair was a success and that we have found the proper mode of capital punishment.

I should like to tell you more, but my allegiance to the warden forbids. I can say that I believed death was instantaneous." Dr.
Samuel Ward, who also witnessed the execution, declined to be interviewed at all, but admitted that the limited Press account was admitted that the United Press account was "EVERYTHING WORKED SMOOTHLY," NEWBERG, N. Y., July 8.—Horace B. Beek-man, president of the Edison Flectric Light Company of this city, was present at the electrocution at Sing Sing yesterday as an expert. He was seen by a United Press representative at his office to-day. He said while all were pledged to secrecy, still enough had been given out piecemeal by the witnesses to tell the story complete. There was nothing else to tell and the United Press account midlished in the papers last evening was espublished in the papers last evening was essentially correct. His opinion as an electrical expert being asked, Mr. Reekman said: "It was a great success. Everything worked smoothly. There was no bitch or botch at any point. A lady could have witnessed the entire electrocution. By that I mean there entire electrocution. By that I mean there were no revolting scenes or struggles. It was one moment a living man and an instant later a lifeless corpse, without a murmer or a struggle. As to improvements that suggest themselves to an expert, I prefer to have nothing to say on the subject at the present time. There were three electrical experts present. Of course there are always improvements to be made in everything of a new character, and electricity and electrical appliances are yet in their infancy, and time will ances are yet in their infancy, and time will work great changes. You may say though, that while the appliances may be greatly improved upon, there will probably yesterday, viewed from a scientific standpoint at least.

WHAT A REPORTER SAW. New York, July 8.—The Evening World this afternoon says: The body of Murderer Harris Smiler was brought to this city this afternoon by Undertaker Hulberg on the train which left Sing Sing at 1:36 o'clock. The body had been claimed by Smiler's widow, the woman he married and deserted for the woman he afterwards murdered. The body was taken from the train to the undertaking establishment at No. 265 west One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street Three or four hundred people were gathered to witness the arrival of the body. By a pre-vious arrangement with the undertaker an Evening World reporter was in waiting at the rooms to see the body of the executed mur-derer. The coffin was taken to the basement by the undertaker's assistant, and the lid was quickly taken off, exposing the dead man's face. The reporter stood close by, and was horrified at the sight that met his gaze. HIS FACE BURNED BLACK.

Smiler's face had been burned by the electric fluid until it presented the appearance of having been broiled. The hair on the front of the head, the moustache and eyebrows had been singed and burned off. The face was furrowed and scarred as though with a hot iron. These marks were not those of a dissecting knife or scaled. They were hurns was furrowed and scarred as though with a hot iron. These marks were not those of a dissecting knife or scalpel. They were burns. Pressing closer to see the dead man's face plainer, the reporter attracted the attention of the undertaker's assistant, and they seized him by the shoulder and compelled him to leave the place before any other portion of the body was exposed. To repeated requests to be allowed to see the body the reporter was informed that no one but the undertaker and his assistants would be permitted to see it until it had been fully prepared for burial. It was learned, through one of the undertaker's assistants, that Smiler's of the undertaker's assistants, that Smiler's left leg was burned to the bone through the calf. The eyes were burned badly, though the eyeball was not destroyed.

DR. WARD'S OPINION.

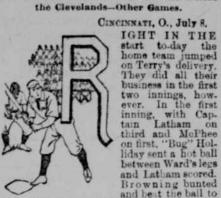

Dr. S. B. Ward, one of the witnesses of the electrocution, was shown the report of the burning of Smiler. He was asked if he could corroborate the report. The Doctor looked perplexed, and walked up and down for some moments in deep thought, and then said. "I am considering just how much or how little I ought to say. I am not bound by oath, but by honor, which to me is the same thing, not by honor, which to me is the same thing, hot to divulge anything connected in any way with the details of the execution. Therefore I cannot answer the question. I will not say that Smiler was burned." "Will you say he was:" quered the reporter for the United Press. Dr. Ward, with the utmost courtesy, replied: "I will say nothing about it." Finally the doctor broke a minute's sileance by saving. "I will say that a minute's silence by saying: "I will say that not one of the executed showed anything like the disfiguration incidental to death by hanging. There was not one-half the horror in witnessing their execution that would have been if they had been hanged. The heartbeats were over fifteen times as quick.

"THE EXECUTION SUCCESSFUL." After a brief silence Dr. Ward resumed: "Fleetricity is frequently employed the rapeuti. "Electricity is frequently employed the rapeutically by physicians and it is very common for the patient to be blistered at the point of contact. Although I have no personal knowledge, it is affirmed that electricity baths often blister the bather. Now for sake of argument let us suppose that Smiler was blistered, and understand I do not for a moment say he was, what of it? He was dead at the moment of the first contact, and consequently felt nothing. You have read in print that none of them were marked," "Do you call a blister a burn?" "Certainly not," was his reply. "A burn would tear the flesh." Again he was interrogated as to the turning on of the current once or twice after the first had been shut off, to which he replied: "I will not say how many times it was turned on or off. It could make no earthly difference how many times. As a matter of fact, an alhow many times. As a matter of fact, an al-ternating current shuts itself off from fifteen to eighteen hundred times a minute. Now if it were turned off by the switch it would be the same cut off, only with a longer interval between it and the next application of the current." Dr. Ward would say nothing more, excepting that the executions were eminently essful and carried out skilfully and with

PARNELL'S CAUSE COLLAPSES.

His Candidate Badly Beaten By a McCarthyite at Carlow.

HOW THE KAISER SPENT THE DAY.

He Expresses a Desire to Meet Mr. Gladstone-Bismarck May Challenge Munster-Foreign Events.

DUBLIN, July 8 .- The result of the election held yesterday at Carlow for a successor in Parliament to the late O'Gorman Mahon has resulted in a crushing defeat for the Parnellite candidate in the district which Mr. Parnell admitted was his stronghold and where, he said, if he was defeated he would admit that he had nothing left to fall back upon in political life.

The result of the election announced to-day was as follows: Hammond, the McCarthyite candidate, 3,755; Kettle, Parnellite, 1,539. Majority against Mr. Kettle, 2,216.
Carlow is the smallest county in Ireland, and contains a population of 45,000 people, and an electorate of about 7,000, of whom 1,000 are conservatives.

and an electorate of about 7,000, of whom 1,000 are conservatives.

Mr. Andrew Kettle, the defeated Parnell candidate, is a farmer of Dublin county who has already been twice defeated at the polls. Mr. Hammond, the victorious McCarthyite candidate, is a popular merchant of Carlow, who for twelve years past has held the position of chairman of the town commissioners.

Speaking at Carlow after the result of the election was made known, Mr. Parnell said that he was not disheartened, and that he would continue to consolidate the independent men of every Irish county and city and put the issues he upheld before the country at every election.

THE KAISER AND GLADSTONE. He Desires the Acquaintance of the Great Statesman-How the Day Was Spent.

[By Cable to The Times.] London, July 8.—The Kaiser has expressed a desire to meet Mr. Gladstone personally, and an attempt will be made to bring them together if Mr. Gladstone's health and engagements permit. To-day the Liberal leader is burying his son at Hawarden. The Kaiser is burying his son at Hawarden. The Kaiser is anxious to visit not only the naval exposition, but also the dock yards, and it is rumored that at the State dinner in Windsor he put the Prince of Wales in an embarrassing position by asking him some questions about naval matters, to which the Prince was entirely unable to respond. The Kaiser also tried to obtain some military intelligence from the Prince, but, it is said, found the royal field marshal hopelessly ignorant on all such topics. A well-known nobleman has cruelly suggested that the Prince would have been at home on baccarat. The Kaiser, it is thought, takes a malicious pleasure in pub-licly sounding the depth of the Prince's ignorance on prominent public topics. hey are, however, to all appearances very friendly.

The royal plate displayed at the banquet to the Kaiser is said to be the most valuable of its kind in Europe. The Czar has a set of golden dishes, but they are not equal in weight or design to the British, and are of much more recent manufacture. The royal plate is watched by Queen Victoria with eager any isty and it is year, saidon, that it is disanxiety, and it is very seldom that it is dis-played, even as an honor to visiting royalty. HOW THE KAISER SPENT THE DAY.

The Emperor and Empress of Germany, after having breakfasted with Queen Victoria, drove to Frogmore and visited the Royal Mansoleum. The imperial party afterward lunched at Windsor and were then driven to Cumberland Lodge, where the silver wedding of Frince and Princess Christian of Schleswig-Holstein is being celebrated. After having written out his speech, according to Truth, the Emperor must submit it to the Queen for sporoval. Also that this may act as a curb to the young Emperor's known incontinent tengue, the Emperor is only to read those portions of his written speech which may have met with the Queen's sanction.

HE LEAVES FOR LONDON. After leaving Cumberland Lodge the Emperor was present at a cricket match, which was played at Windsor for his special gratifi-

Later in the afternoon the Emperor took leave of the Queen and left at 6 o'clock for London, where he will occupy a suite of apartments at Buckingham Palace. The object of the Emporer's visit to London is to be present this evening at the grand "command" performance at the Royal Italian opers, which is expected to be the grandest performance in the history of Covent Garden.

To-morrow the Emperor and his party and the royal family will hear the "Golden Legend" at the Albert Hall, and the same day the imperial traveler may visit the naval exhibition. The exact time of this visit is kept a secret in order to avoid a crush, which would undoubtedly be the result if the public finds out the exact time at which the Emperor will be there.

THE KAISER AND PRINCE CHEERED. The arrival of the Kaiser and Kaiserine in The arrival of the Kaiser and Raserine in London to-day was witnessed by a vast throng of people. They came to Paddington station by the Great Western from Windsor, accompanied by their equerries and the Prince of Wales and Duke of Edinburg. There German majesties and the Prince and Duke man majestics and the Frince and Duke took an open carriage, attended by postillions, and were driven without ostenta-tion to the palace. A number of houses along the route were decorated, and the crowd re-peatedly cheered the Prince and the kaiser, who politely returned the salutations. The who politely returned the salutations. The route was specially guarded by police, but there was not the slightest indication of any disposition to insult the Imperial visitor, and if anarchists were present they kept quiet. At the palace gates the multitude cheered At the palace gates the mututude cheered over and over again with great enthusiasm. The guard of honor at the gates consisted of the Cold Stream Guards and the Ancient Tudor Corps, known as "the Beef Eaters."

MUNSTER MUST RETRACT.

Otherwise Bismarck Will Force Him Into a Duel.
[By Cable to The Times.]

Berlin, July 8 .- It is reported in diplomatic circles that unless Count von Munster, the German Ambassador at Paris, denies the story circulated by M. de Blowitz, to the effect that the late Emperor William was desirous of getting rid of Prince Bismarck and that the Chancellor's advancement of Count Herbert Bismarck, his son, was a glaring instance of nepotism in politics, he (Count Bismarck) will challenge the German Ambassador to give him satisfaction on the field of honor.

Murder at a Race-Track.

Murder at a Race-Track.

Chicago, July 8,—Charles Easly, a colored cook at the Washington Park stables, last evening shot and killed William Durrell, an employe of the Swigert stable. The men quarreled at supper and Durrell finally struck the cook in the face. Mad with rage Easly ran into the kitchen, seized a revolver, and without a word pointed it at Durrell and fired. The bullet struck Durrell in the right side and he died without a word.

President Hamilin Buried.

Bancon, Mr., July 8.—The remains of exVice-President Hamilin were interred this afternoon in Mount Hope cemetery. The funeral was one of the largest and most impressive ever held in this State. All of the public buildings and many private and business houses were draped in mourning, and during the afternoon, at the time of the funeral, and the passage of the funeral cortege, all business houses were closed, all uniting in paying this tribute to the distinguished dead.

Nonrolx, Va., July 8.—About 7 o'clock this evening a white man employed on the bark Grace Linwood, which was in tow of the tug Hain, while bailing out the yawl attached to the bark, was thrown overboard by the breaking of the ropes holding up the boat, and was drowned. The bark was just off Crancy Island when the scoident happened.
